

The Inspiring Story of the Nobel Prize-Winning Doctor

This inspiring docu-drama brings to life the story of Dr. Albert Schweitzer, one of the great humanitarians of the 20th century and recipient of the Nobel Peace Prize for his work in healing the sick and injured in Africa.

This towering figure – jungle doctor, pastor, philosopher, and celebrated musician – was revered by royalty and the famous of his day. Yet the price of his fame was paid for in part by his wife and daughter, left behind in Europe while he pursued his African dream.

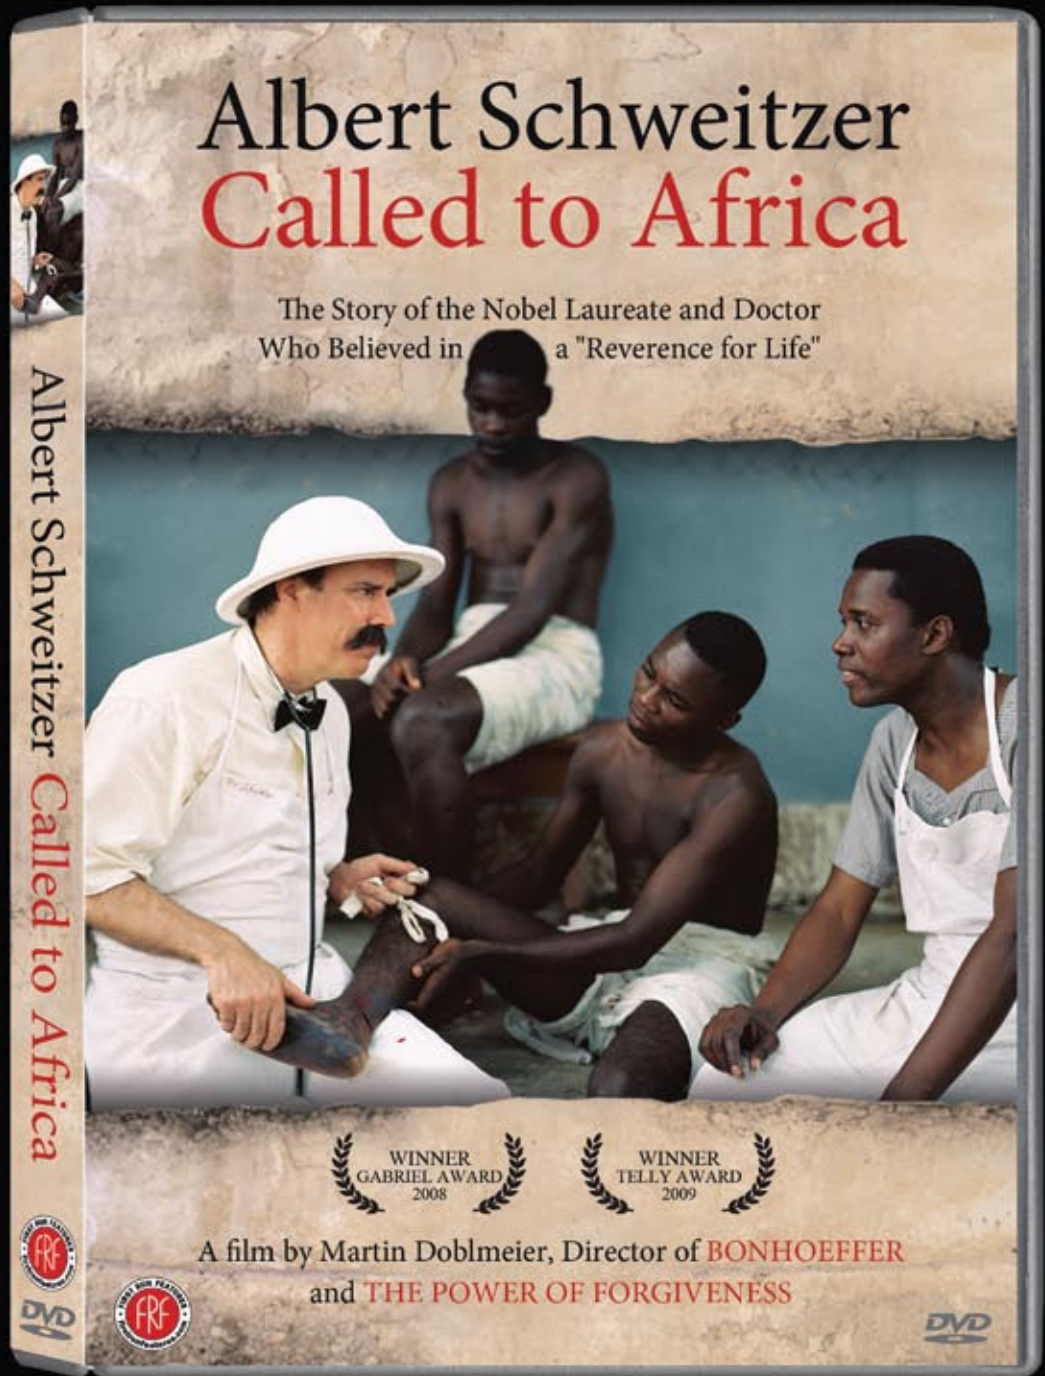

Filmed in West Africa, where the hospital Schweitzer founded continues to treat people today, it is also enhanced by real-life interviews with family members, biographers, theologians, and others.
