Up-and-coming comedians Kags, Joey and Dave make clear that life in the 'new' Johannesburg is not just about hardship and townships. It's also about finding humor in relationships, hanging out with friends and celebrating life on a raucous roadtrip to Oppi Koppi – South Africa's largest music festival.

During Argentina's economic crisis, 9-year-old Eugenia and her mother, Florencia, live a seemingly colorful life surrounded by eclectic neighbors and an offbeat collection of family. But Eugenia has to grow up fast to take care of her drug-addicted mother, now pregnant (again) by an unknown father.
