

FIRST RUN FEATURES PRESENTS

“★★★★★!

A sensational achievement, sublime and timeless. Like Michael Apted in his ‘UP’ films, Depardon keeps returning to the same people, using his films as a record of the passing of the years.”

-THE TELEGRAPH (UK)

“Beautifully shot...a richly compassionate tribute to its hardy subjects and their slowly vanishing way of life.”

-TOTAL FILM (UK)

“Wonderful...conveys a profound truth.”

-THE GUARDIAN (UK)

In Modern Life filmmaker Raymond Depardon casts an affectionate and irreverent eye on a small community of farmers as they confront the problems and challenges the contemporary world brings.

The Cévennes region in southern France is a land of hilly passes, lonely farms and lonelier farmers. There we are introduced to a variety of people whose lives are woven into the fabric of farming life—sustaining a way of life that celebrates the traditions and methods of old. Through portraits of these unforgettable souls, the film becomes a witness to farmers’ lives, values, and stories: all that binds them to the land, and its legacy.
